

PRODUCTION REPORT

NOP 205.103. Recordkeeping by certified operations. The Production Report shows what products were produced during a given time period. The Production Report connects the ingredients to the final product. Each organic product is given a separate production record by date of production, and shows the ingredients used; the lot number of the ingredient to produce the final product; the amount of the ingredient used to make the final product; and the final amount of organic product that is produced.
